HUNGRY STEER BREAKS LOOSE

TOSSES A YOUNG WOMAN AGAINST A SHOW WINDOW.

Takes a Plunge Into the Uncrystalline Waters of Newtown Creek—Swims to Long Island City, Where It Is Captured, and Allows Itself to Be Tied to a Post.

A herd of thirty red Texas steers with long horns, which were landed from a cattle boat at the foot of Quay street, Greenpoint, yesterday morning seemed to be famished and the drovers had considerable difficulty in keeping them together. A big animal, which appeared to be wild broke loose from the herd and shambled along Franklin street to Kent street and turned up the latter thoroughfare to Manhattan avenue. A number of boys followed and stoned it.

This seemed to madden the brute, and when it reached Manhattan avenue it charged on a crowd of women shoppers. They ran screaming in every direction. Some men tried to lasso the steer, but it charged upon them and they got out of its way. At India street the steer lowered its head, belowed and prepared to attack an approaching cross-town car. It changed its course, however, turned and got on the sidewalk, where it attacked a young woman and tossed her against a show window.

The woman was only slightly hurt. A small boy, who fell while trying to get out of the steer's way, was also slightly hurt. The steer got back to the roadway and at Dupont street charged on a crowd of street urchins who undertook to stop its progress. The boys scattered, and the steer, turning into Dupont street, went down to Oakland street and on reaching Box street entered the yard of Smith's box factory. It charged on some lumber handlers who undertook to show it back to the street. They gave the steer full swing in the yard and it ran down to a small dock and dropped into Newtown Creek. It turned a few somersaults, and after righting itself and getting its bearings, it made for the Long Island City side. The steer tried to effect a landing on East avenue near the improvised bridge over Newtown Creek, but the bank was steep and the animal was helped up by some men who lassoed it.

It seemed to the men that the steer was greatly exhausted, but it soon recovered and made for a shipyard near by, where it was corralled.

It broke loose again soon and made for a small machine shop, but before the shop was reached some men succeeded in getting hold of the line around the steer's horns. The animal was secured, and meanwhile two policemen who had appeared on the scene had the steer fastened to a post and had been over it while a general alarm was sent out from a nearby police station that an owner was wanted for it.

CUT OFF USE OF HYDRANTS.

A Water Company in Brooklyn Trying to Bring the City to Time.

President Fred C. Cocheu of the Blythebourne Water Company yesterday notified Deputy Fire Commissioner William A. Doyle that the use of the fire hydrants in Blythebourne, Borough Park, Bay Ridge Park and Lefferts Park, which are the property of the company, was forbidden to the city from that date. The letter declares that the company has allowed the city to use the water for several years, but that they have never been able to obtain compensation therefor.

The Blythebourne Water Company's property was held at such a high figure, it is said, when the city attempted to buy it, about a year ago, it was decided to let it alone.

Officials of the Fire Department who had heard of the letter said last night that in case of fire in the district controlled by the Blythebourne Water Company the hydrants would be used as herebefore. "What do we care about the fights between the city and the owners of private property when a fire is under way?" said one of the chiefs. "We are on duty, and if any one interferes with us we will show him that we come first—even ahead of the police. Yes, we'll use the water and the hydrants, all right."

Old Gorgon Graham Says:

"Make your wife pay cash. A woman never really understands money till she's done that for a while. I've noticed that people rarely pay down the money for foolish purchases—they charge them. And it's mighty seldom that a woman's extravagant unless she or her husband pays the bills by check. There's something about counting out the actual legal tender on the spot that keeps a woman from really wanting a lot of things that she thinks she wants."

A good many New Yorkers agree with Graham. The evidence? This 24-acre Macy store—a giant structure and every foot of it necessary for housing the vast business this Macy Cash system has created.

It is a TRUTH brought home to-day to the thousands who are supplying their Cold-Weather Needs from the vast stocks gathered here—stocks far greater than this Macy store ever before assembled.

POLICE WHO GOT UP FIGHT.

Five Men Dropped as a Result of Peter's Death.

Five members of the North Bergen police department who are accused of assisting in making arrangements for the fatal prize fight at Aleck Koehler's music hall in Tonawanda avenue last Sunday morning were held at a meeting of the Township Committee on Thursday. They were James Smith, the chairman of the fight committee, who promised protection to Koehler, and Daniel Lawrence, John Simmons, Henry Raven and Gustav Pressler. The town fathers dispensed with the formality of a trial, and none of the policemen put in an appearance. Raven and Pressler are under arrest for their connection with the fight, and Smith, Lawrence and Simmons have not shown up in their usual haunts for several days.

The Township Committee also cited Special Officers Frank Huber, Charles Meyer, Charles Schaeffer and Fred Kleins to appear for trial next Monday evening.

Sheriff's officers are still looking for seven policemen for whom bench warrants have been issued by Judge John A. Blair.

CAR TRANSFERS FOR TWO CENTS.

Not sold by the Company, but by Two 16-Year-Old Boys, Sleuth Says.

Richard Crossatt and Thomas Rooney, sixteen-year-old boys, were in the West Side police court yesterday charged with selling street car transfers at eighty-sixth street and Central Park West. They were held in $100 each for trial.

A detective of the railway company declared that the boys made a practice of begging transfers from persons alighting from Eighth avenue and Eighty-sixth street cross-town cars. They afterward offered the slips for sale at two cents each.

Crossatt said that his father was coachman for John W. Gates, and Rooney declared that he was a pupil at the De Witt Clinton High School. They appeared little concerned at their predicament.
